TIDES.

THE GREATEST EVDENCE of the dangers of cholera morbus, diarrhoea and dysentery is the increase in the death rate during the Summer months. You cannot be too careful, and particular attention should be paid to the diet. A supply of PAIN-KILLER should always be at hand, for it can be relied on at all times as safe, sure and speedy. A teaspoonful will cure any ordinary case. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Pain-Killer Perry Davis'. Price 25c. and 50c.

COURT DECISIONS.

DIGESTED BY W. B. MARTIN EXCLUSIVELY FOR VIRCINIAN-PILOT.

Notes of Cases Recently Decided Which Are of Interest to Our People.

AUSTIN V. STEWART. Supreme Court of North Carolina. May 15, 1980.

WHEN THE MORTGAGEE SELLS THE MORTGAGED LAND UNDER A POWER OF SALE, AND HIM-SELF BECOMES THE PURCHA-SER THROUGH A THIRD PERSON, THE MORTGAGOR MAY DISAFFIRM THE SALE AND HAVE A NEW ONE ORDERED. IF HE AFFIRM THE SALE HE IS BOUND THEREBY.

BOUND THEREBY.

This was an action to recover from defendant land which it was alleged he sold as mortgagee under a power of sale contained in the mortgage, and bought at said sale through the intervention of a third party.

The Court says:

The plaintiff could have disaffirmed the sale, and procured an order of resale, upon proof of his allegation that the defendant was the real purchaser. But, having elected to affirm the sale, such election, once made, is binding, and he is entitled only to the sum the land brought, after deducting the mortgage debt, and the legitimate costs entailed by the sale—subject, of course, to any sum proved upon the the counterclaim which is pleaded. He cannot affirm in part and disaffirm in part. The plaintiff relies upon Froneberger v. Lewis, 79 N. C. 426, which is a case where an administrator bought at his own sale, and was held liable for the value of the property. But there the sale was not affirmed, but disaffirmed, and it was held that in such case the heirs at law could elect to treat the sale as a nuility; 1, e., recover the land or hold the administrator liable for its value. If they had affirmed the sale, as the plaintiff has done, they could only have recovered the sum the land brought.

jointly last night.

Mr. Camp was the chairman of both committees. The other members present were Messrs. O'Keefe, Whitehurst, Joynes, Denby and Reid.

Mr. O'Keefe moved that the proposed ordinance, limiting the storage of oils, be recommended to the Councils for adoption. This was carried without debate.

adoption. This was carried without debate.

The effect of this ordinance is that not more than twenty-five barrels of kerosene oil shall be stored in any one building at one time in the city limits; that not more than five barrels of gasolene, naptha or any other highly inflammable fluid, shall be stored at one time; that those who store either oil or inptha shall notify the 'Chief of the Fire Department and supply him with diagram showing where the inflammable fluid is stored.

The penal paragraph of the ordi-mable fluid is stored.

The penal paragraph of the ordinance is as follows:

"Be it further ordained that any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this ordinance shall be subject to a fine of not less than $20 nor more than $100 for each day or part of day of such violation."

Dr. W. B. Pollard, one of Norfolk's brightest young physicians, finished his term of service at St. Vincent's Hospital yesterday. It is hoped that he will decide to locate here in his home city. Dr. Pollard is a young man of fine address and rarely well-equipped for his profession. After taking an academic course at Randolph-Macon College he entered the University of Pennsylvania, where he graduated with honors in January, 1899. He then received the appointment to St. Vincent's, which has given him many opportunities along the theories of medicine and acquiring skill in the use thereof. We predict for this son of our esteemed citizen, B. G. Pollard, a bright future.

Rev. W. G. Starr, A. M., D. D., president of Randolph-Macon College, filled his three appointments in this section Sunday, preaching an able and eloquent discourse at Berkley M. E. Church Sunday morning on "Casting Out Idols from the Human Heart," and took up a thank offering collection amounting to $1,572. Sunday afternoon he preached at Trinity M. E. Church and raised a thank offering amounting to $200.

Sunday night he preached at McKendree Church to an immense congregation, the entire seating capacity of both audiforium and lecture-room being brought into requisition to accommodate the great audience. Numbers were turned away, being unable to obtain seats, while others contented themselves with standing room during the entire service. Dr. Starr preached a magnificent sermon from the text, "Oh, that men would praise the Lord for His goodness and for His wonderful work unto the children of men!" The collection taken up amounted to $500. The total sum raised at all three services amounted to $2,272.
